

Aftercare

▶ watch the video

There are four key stages following a breakdown, and we have you covered at every step...

Your new car has undergone preparation to make sure it reaches you in the best possible condition, but sometimes things can still go wrong and when they do it's likely to be inconvenient and costly.

We know how important your car is to you, so when it does break down it's important that you get back on the road as soon as possible, that's why we offer market leading Aftercare with all of our vehicles that has been created specifically with future driving in mind.

With Roadside Assistance provided by The AA, our specialist recovery agent will get to you within 30 minutes on average and, if they can't fix your fault at the roadside, they'll recover you to one of our national repair centres who will diagnose the problem, manage the claim on your behalf, and we'll cover the costs of diagnosis, parts and labour.
